

ARC1102 Architectural Design Fundamentals I

Course Description

The course is important for introducing students to drafting techniques and enables the student to acquire skills of visual observation and expression.

Objectives/aim

- To acquaint the student with drafting instruments.
- To introduce the student to basic drafting techniques.
- To train the student in skills of visual observation.