Course Description

This is a project assignment through which the student is expected to show competence and detailed knowledge of handling an architectural assignment, right from inception to detailed design, including cost estimates and the preparation of a project report. This is the last assignment of the student to prove that he/she can work independently on large scale design assignment.

Objectives/aim

- To apply the cumulative knowledge gathered in the past five years to handle a fully fledged project in terms of brief and design complexity, live situation constraints and client communication.
