Course Description:

This course will enable students to develop short and long-range plans to effectively accomplish organizational goals. Through the use of terminology, exercises and case studies, students will be able to give a critical appraisal of real life situations involving organizing, staffing and motivating others. The student will also learn tools to aid in problem solving, valuing diversity and coping with change. The principles learned in this course will allow the student to effectively work with and through others in an organization. Both principles and practices of management as an academic discipline as well as a profession are surveyed, examined, and reviewed. The course focuses on the fundamentals of the practice of management, including administrative, organizational and behavioural theories. It explores the functions of management and the aspects of the organizational environment.
